

Quick Connect Options

See also /quickconnect.

Nick

The default nick to use when connecting through quick connect dialog or a blank server.

Alternative

The default alternative nick to use when connecting through quick connect dialog or a blank server.

Username

The default username/ident to use when connecting through quick connect dialog or a blank server.

Fullname

The default fullname to use when connecting through quick connect dialog or a blank server.

Host

The default host to connect to through quick connect dialog or a blank server.

Port

The default port to connect to through quick connect dialog or a blank server.

Use +port for SSL/TLS and *port for STARTTLS.

Password

The password to use when connecting to a bouncer or password enabled server.

Join these channels on connect

List of channels to join when connecting through quick connect dialog or a blank server.

Run these commands on connect

List of commands to join when connecting through quick connect dialog or a blank server.

Enable Quick Connect

Enables or disables the quick connect dialog on startup.

Update Quick Connect settings when connecting a server

If enabled, Quick Connect nick/alternative/username/fullname/host/port/password/ssl settings will be updated to use the settings from the last connection.

Show ChannelList on empty connect

Show the channel list automatically when connecting a server without any autojoin channels.

Show ChannelList on /list

Show the channel list user interface when typing /list.